

MMS/AHA Summer Enrichment Programme

Are you interested in developing your son's/daughter's public speaking skills?

Are you interested in increasing your son's/daughter's chances of success at their future conference?

Are you simply interested in finding a fun and educational summer programme for your son/daughter?

If so, you should look more into the MMS/AHA Summer Enrichment Programme; this programme is designed for Grade 8 & 9 students. This is not only beneficial for students who currently participate in debate conferences and programmes, it is also aimed at those who simply want to strengthen their English public speaking skills. An environment of acceptance is highly encouraged within this programme. Tolerance of others' opinions is necessary for a healthy learning environment. Students should be interested in discussing controversial topics and ready to be challenged intellectually.

This programme will be directed by Rama Yasin, a rising senior at Ardrey Kell High School, Charlotte, NC. Rama is coached by Mr. Joseph Bruner, the programme's design and curriculum consultant. To know more about Rama and her mentor, Mr. Joseph Bruner, please read the briefs provided below.

About Rama Yasin

Rama attends Ardrey Kell High School, recognized as one of the top 5 Speech and Debate schools in the nation. She has developed her debate and public speaking skills through being immersed in the debate environment for more than 400 hours a year. Also, she has been actively competing in Speech and Debate for two years and has been placed in the top 5 at multiple tournaments, including the 44th Annual Harvard National Forensics Tournament.

As a proud Jordanian-American who splits her time between two beautiful nations, her aim is to bring what she has learned in the heat of some of the toughest competitions in the United States back to students in her home country. She believes that all students need the necessary skills to present and advocate themselves in the future, whether in admissions, interviews, corporate negotiations, or when advocating for political change before the United Nations.

About Joseph Bruner

Joseph Bruner is a Jurist Doctor candidate at Columbia University with academic interests in the area of human freedom, particularly in the contexts of free speech, privacy, cyber security, and personal autonomy. He previously completed his undergraduate studies (M.A., Honors) at the University of Oxford in Politics, Philosophy, and Economics, where he became a lifetime member of the Oxford Union Debating Society. He was a United States national qualifier in Speech and Debate during high school. Prior to beginning his graduate studies, he coached multiple Speech and Debate national champions in the United States, with dozens of other students achieving competitive success and admission to elite universities.

Don't miss out on the opportunity of developing your son's/daughter's public speaking skills.
